THE WILDCAT

1957

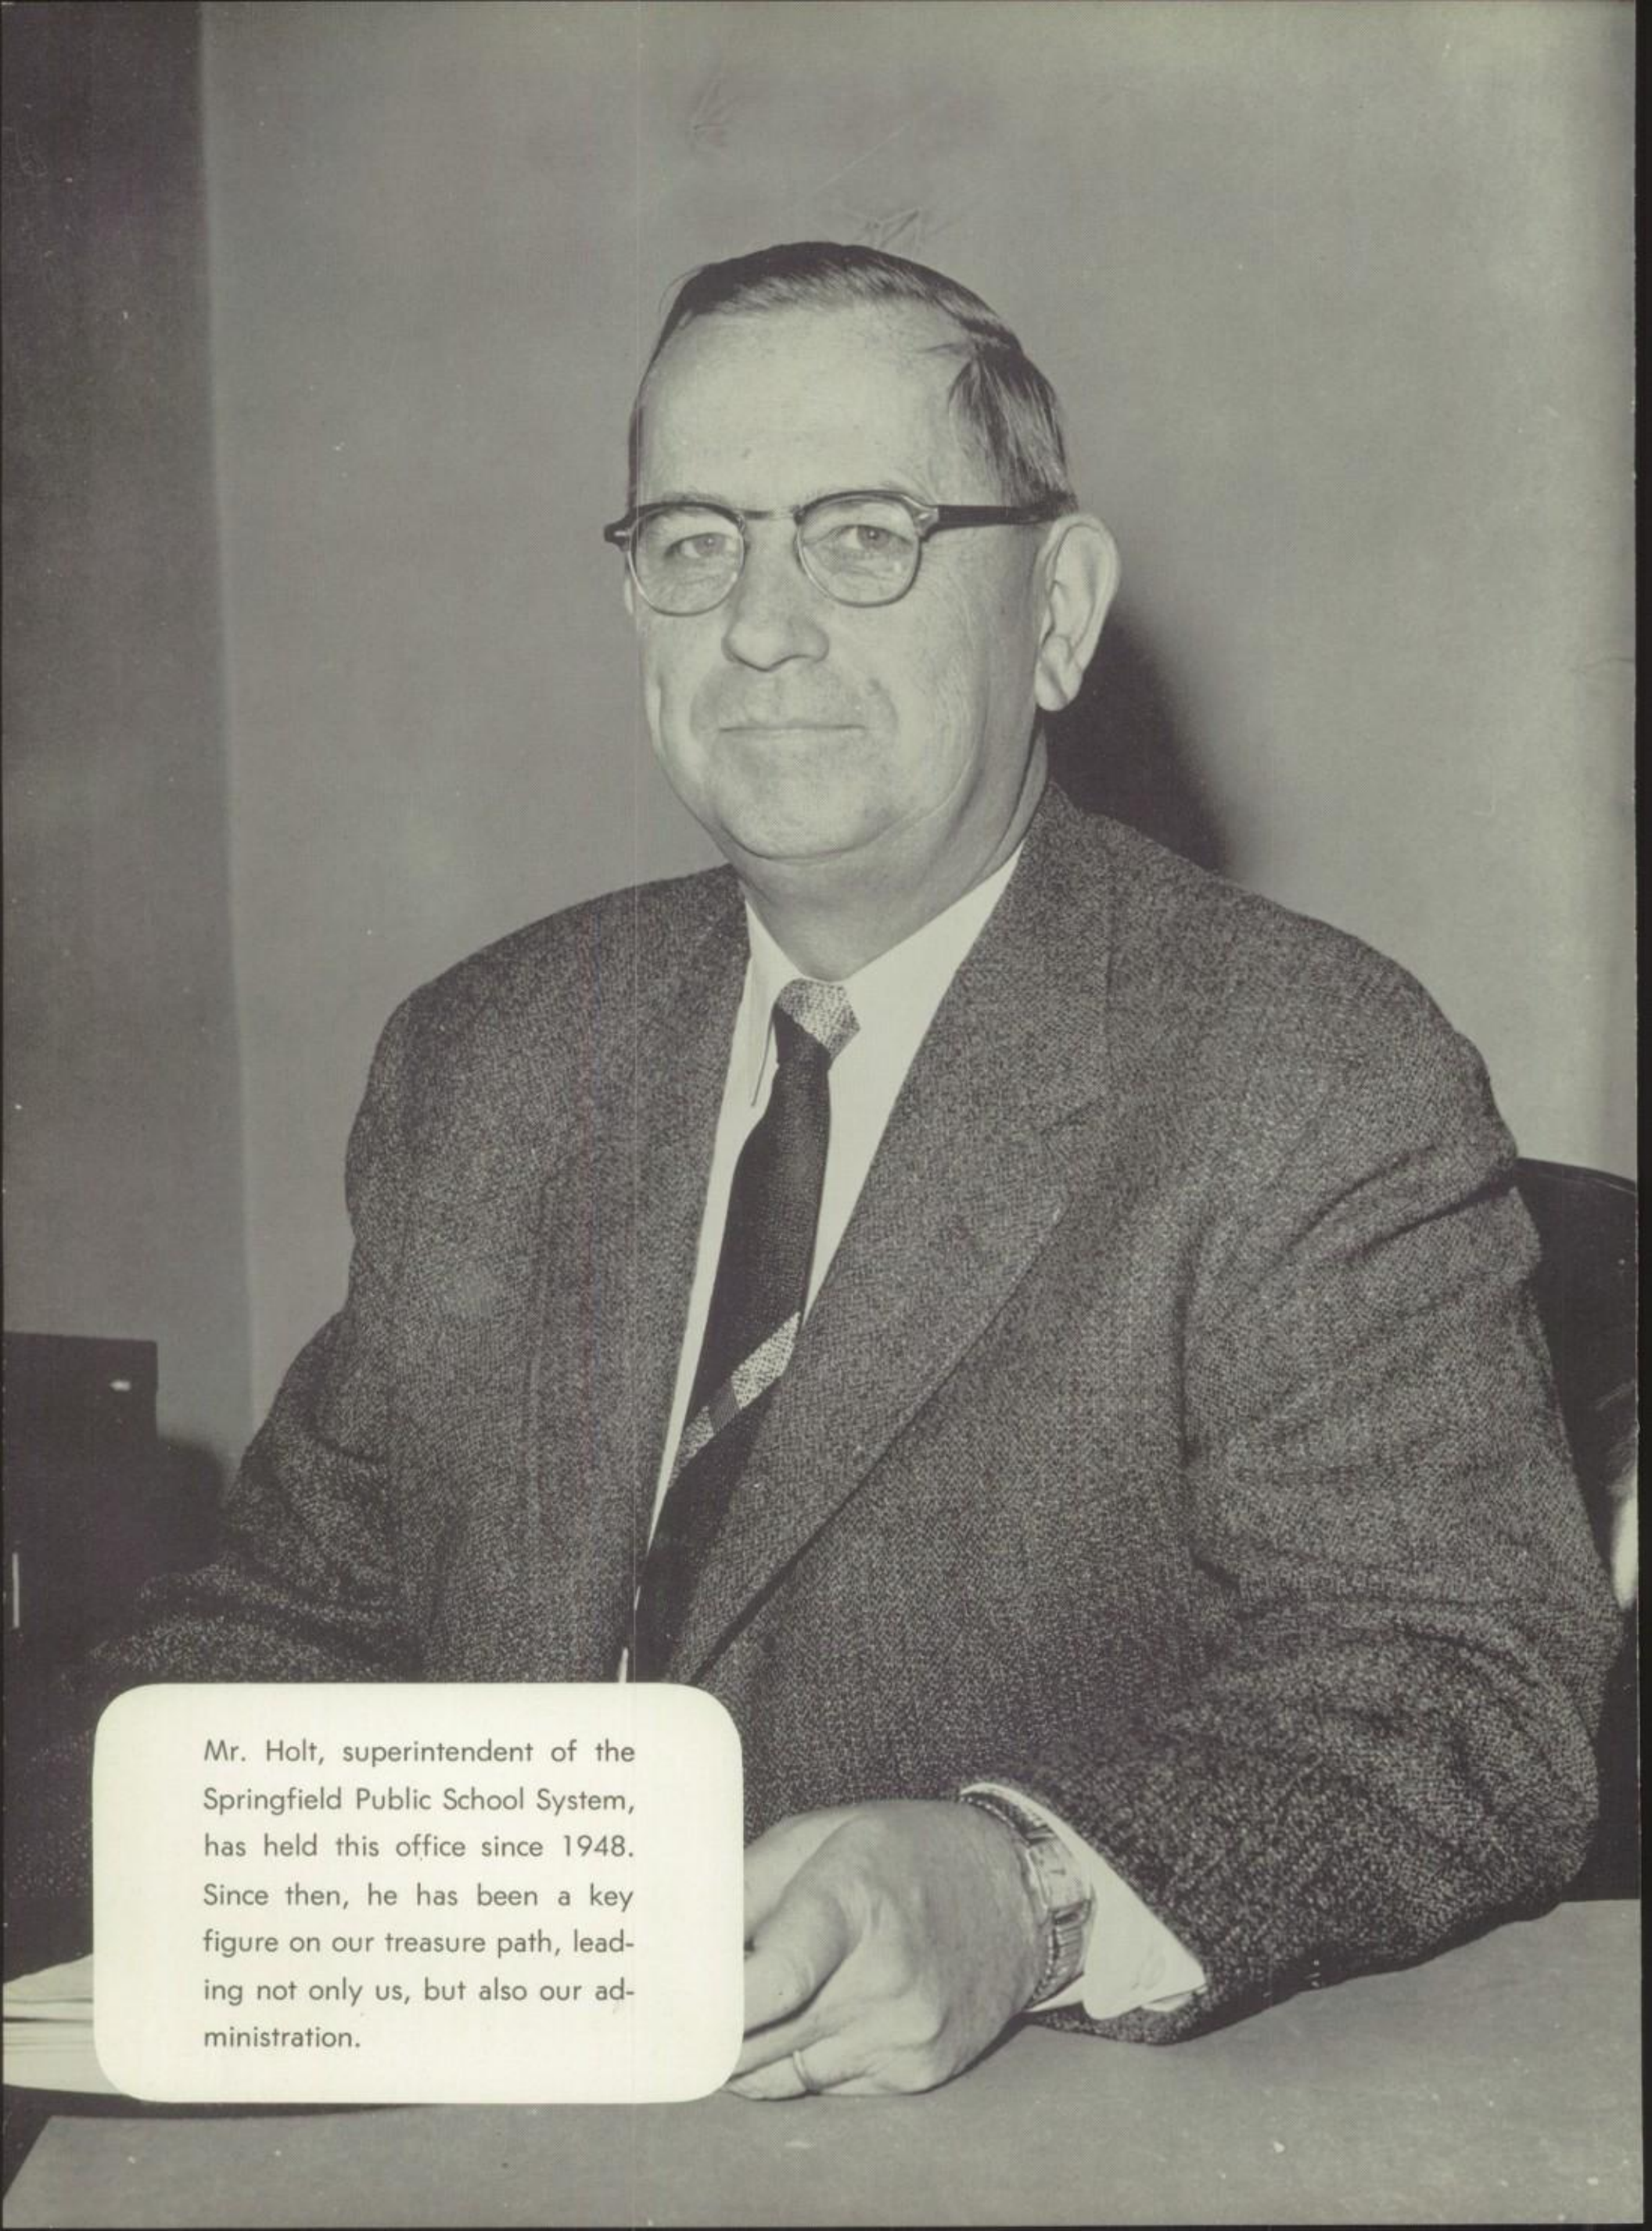

Mr. Fox, who has been the administrative head of Springfield High School for the last 19 years, aids us in acquiring our treasures. He greets us with a warm and sincere talk the first weeks of school and bids us a solemn goodbye at graduation. He is an ever-present figure of our school lives, urging us on to success.

Administration

Mr. Holt, superintendent of the Springfield Public School System, has held this office since 1948. Since then, he has been a key figure on our treasure path, leading not only us, but also our administration.

BOARD of EDUCATION—Seated, left to right: Mrs. E. Y. Bodenberg, Vice President; Mr. Don Applegate, President; Mr. E. E. Holt. Second row: Mr. Wallace Edwards, Mr. Fred Wilson, Mr. E. E. Forrer, Mr. Fred Sturm, Miss Mildred Hartman.

Our assistant principal, Mr. Warfel, is in charge of many of the unseen tasks at S. H. S. In addition to teaching psychology, Mr. Warfel is in charge of ticket sales, and the organization of teachers' and students' schedules. Mr. Warfel is an instrumental part of Springfield High School.

ROBERT PETERS

DOROTHY KRAUTWATER
Girls' Counselor

BOYD YOUNG
Junior and Senior Boys' Counselor

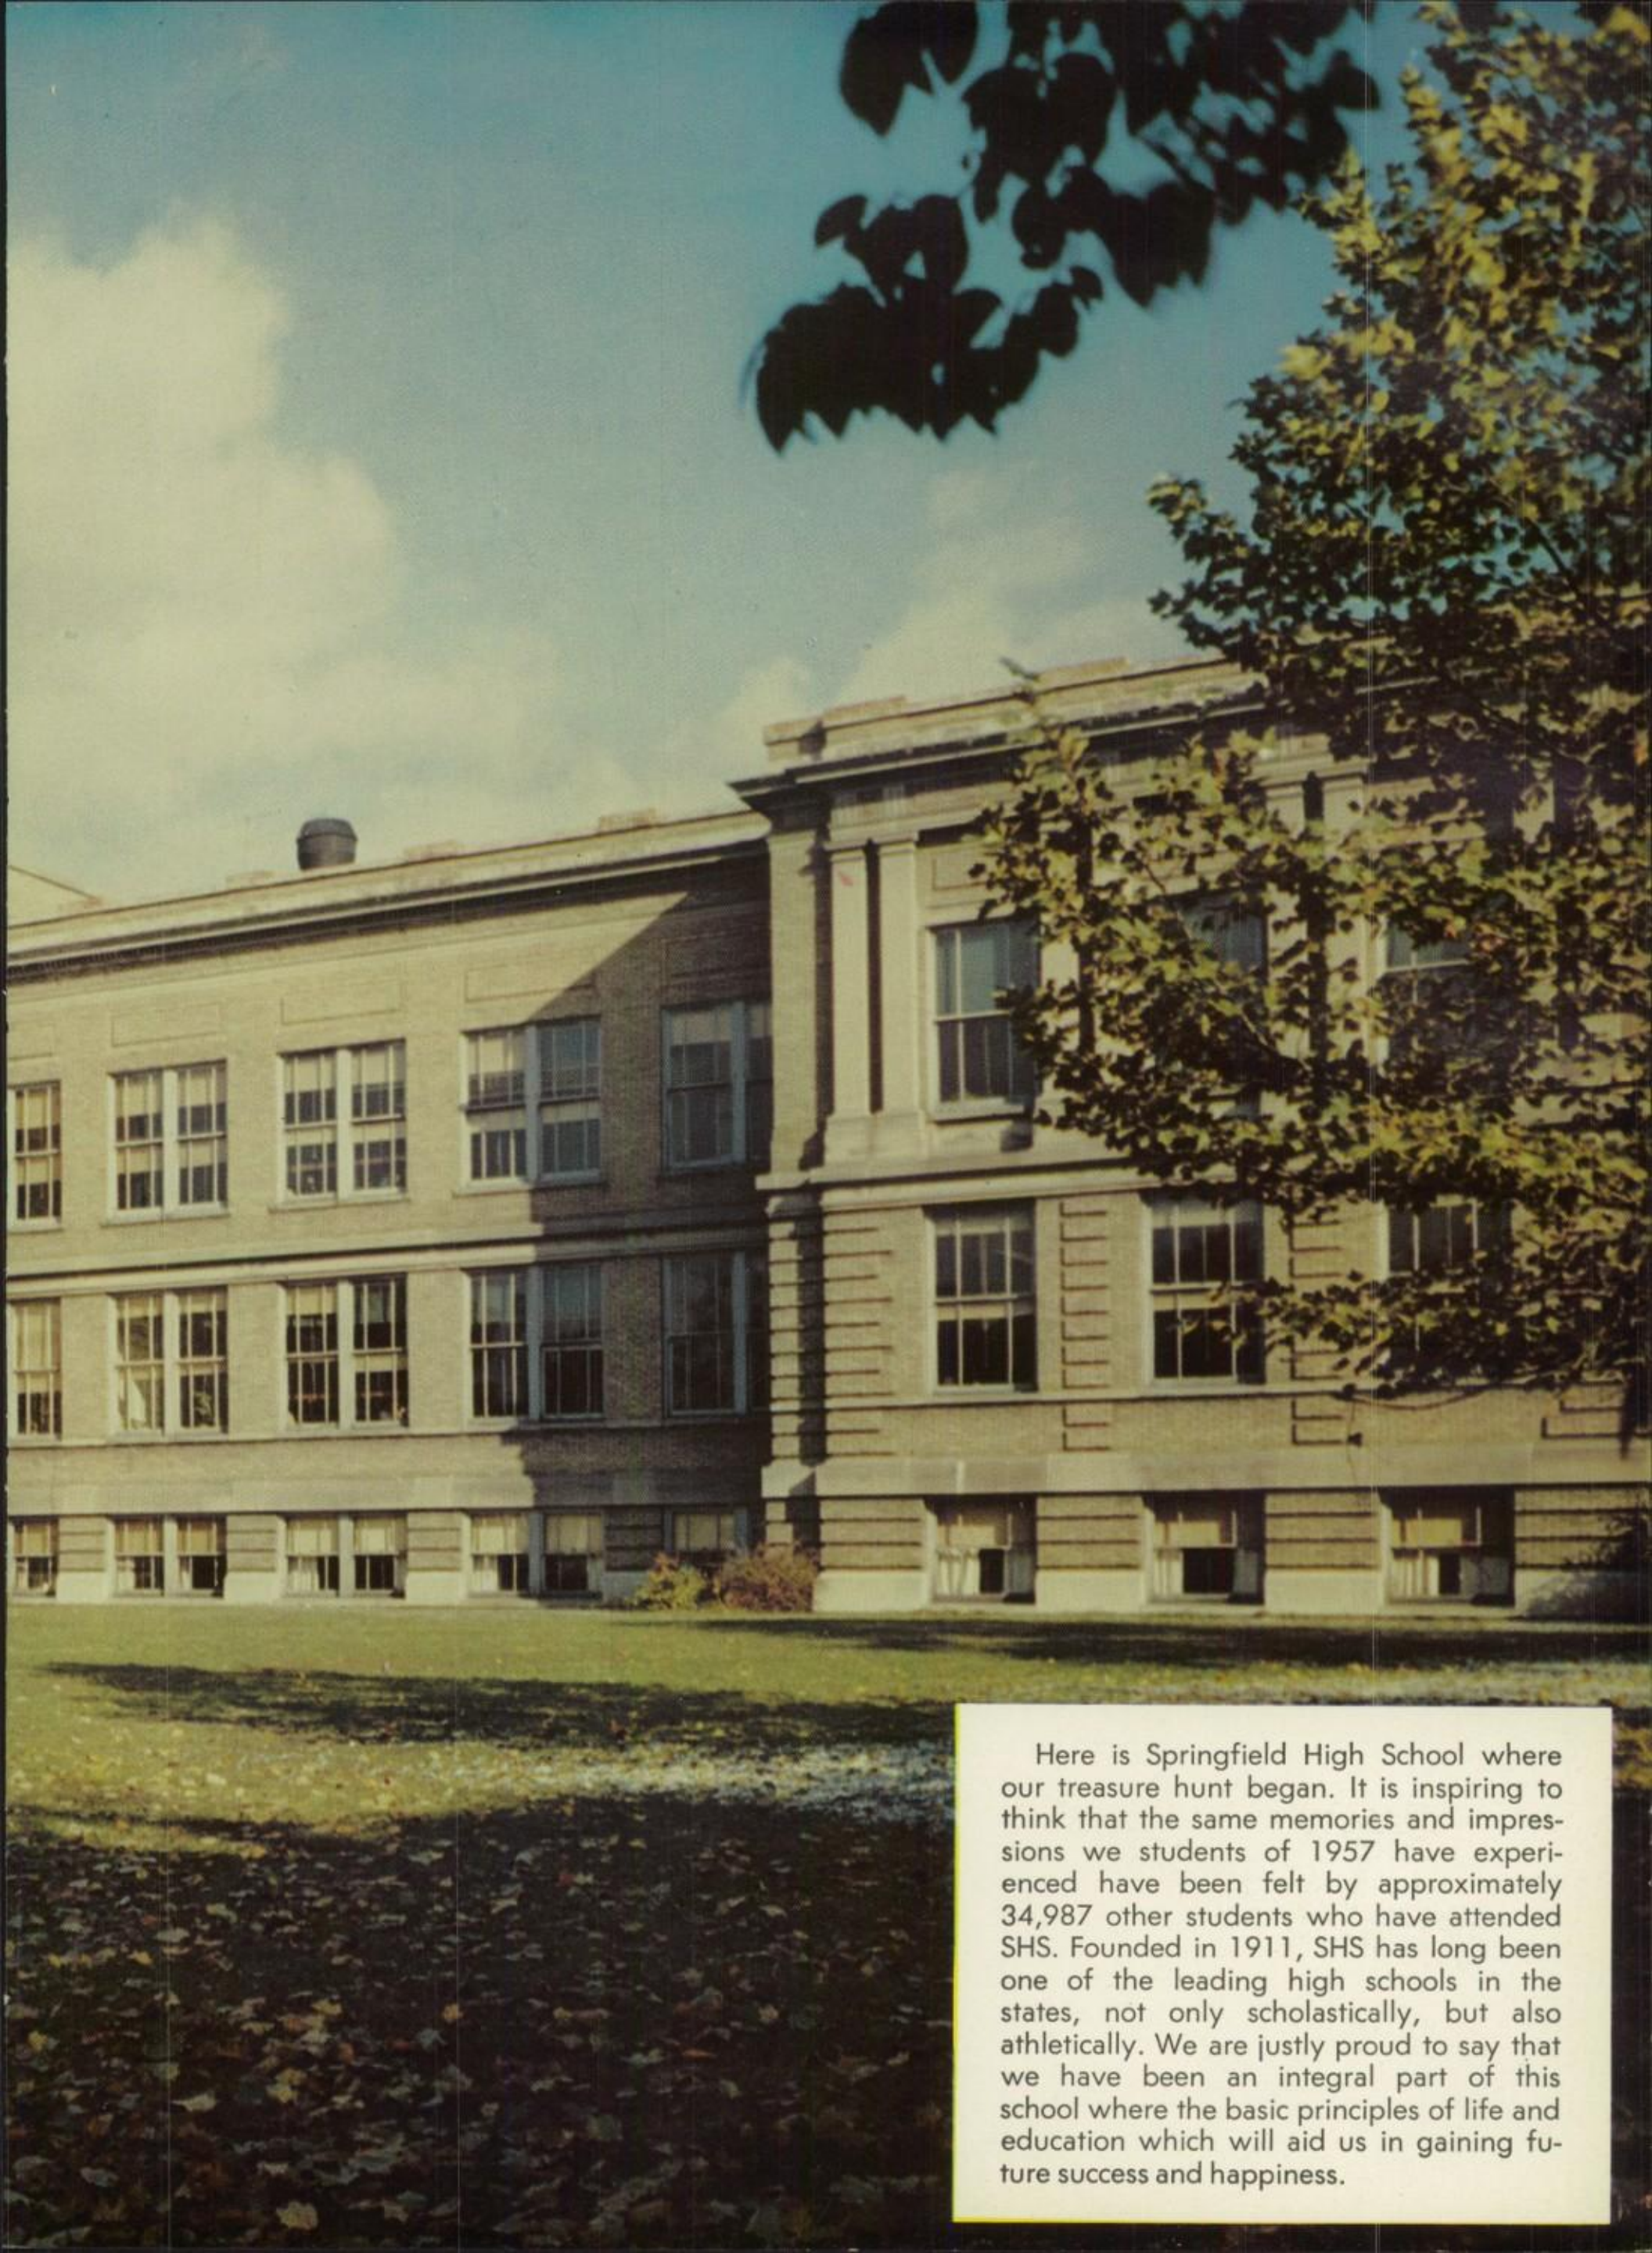

ATTENDANCE COUNSELORS

Top row, left to right: Mr. Garlough, Juniors; Mr. Carter, Sophomores; Mr. C. J. Kauffman, Seniors. Seated: Mr. Ballentine, Seniors; Miss Leonard, Juniors; and Mr. Lehman, Sophomores.

Here is Springfield High School where our treasure hunt began. It is inspiring to think that the same memories and impressions we students of 1957 have experienced have been felt by approximately 34,987 other students who have attended SHS. Founded in 1911, SHS has long been one of the leading high schools in the states, not only scholastically, but also athletically. We are justly proud to say that we have been an integral part of this school where the basic principles of life and education which will aid us in gaining future success and happiness.

OUTSTAND

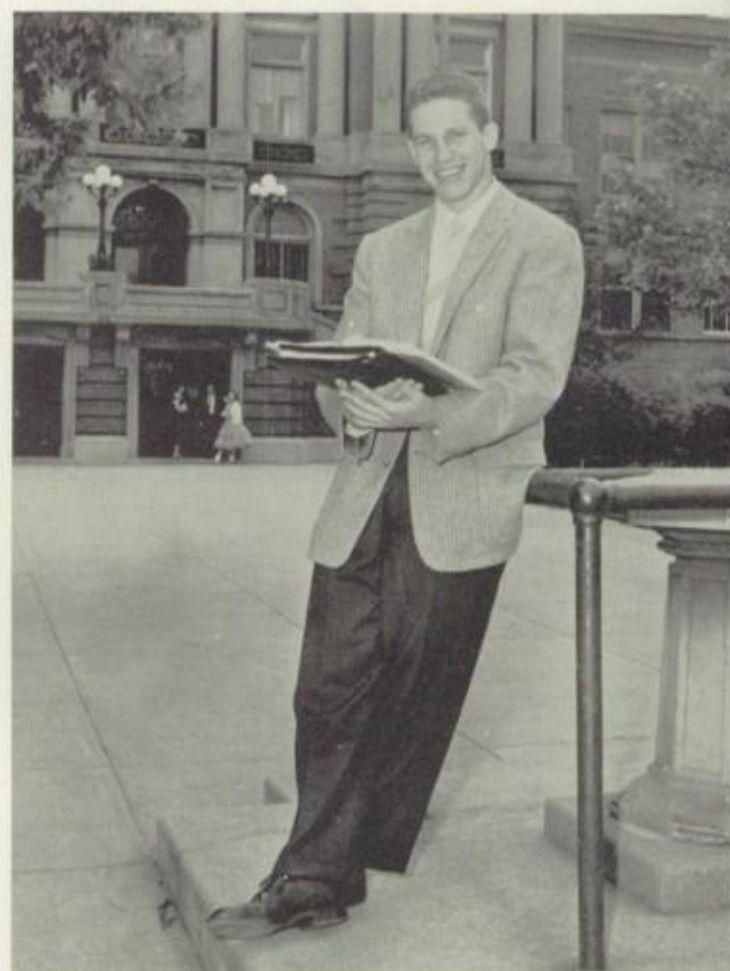

The well-liked Secretary-Treasurer of the Senior Class was J. C. Mills. An outstanding athlete, J. C. was a member of Varsity "S" for two years. He was also active in Boosters, French Club, Choir, a member of National Thespian Society, and as a senior was initiated into National Honor Society.

The popular President of our Student Body was Chuck Mason. Among his many activities were Latin Club, German Club, Boosters, Future Teachers of America, and he was a member of the executive board his sophomore and senior years. He was elected a member of National Honor Society as a senior.

The activities of Sally Wallace were diversified indeed. This attractive young cheerleader was a member of Yearbook staff, French club, Future Teachers of America, and Star and Chevron. In addition to the honor of being relay queen, Sally's senior year was highlighted by her initiation into the National Honor Society.

NG SENIORS

One of our most popular girls was Susie Goodfellow, Vice President of the student body. Her many activities included Friendship, German Club, History Forum, Booster's cabinet, Dramatics, and Future Nurses. Outstanding for her work in Star and Chevron, she ended her senior year with membership in National Honor Society.

Corinne Crabill, besides being a cheerleader and achieving the distinction of homecoming queen, has been one of the most active senior girls at Springfield High. Among her varied list of activities are found such items as French club, Boosters, and National Honor Society. Outstanding for her participation in Star and Chevron, Corinne attained the highest number of hours, that of one thousand two hundred and sixty.

Pete Swackhamer, a capable and industrious senior, was most efficient in executing his duties as president of Booster's club. In addition to these activities, Pete also participated in Yearbook, Star and Chevron, Intramurals, and was a big brother for incoming sophomores in his junior and senior years.

Brenda Cooke, Treasurer of the Senior Class, was an extremely industrious senior. Among her many activities were Star and Chevron, Yearbook, Future Nurses, Friendship, Spanish Club, and Star and Atom. Brenda also utilized her musical ability by being in Glee Club and Choir. This senior ended her high school career by being initiated into National Honor Society.

A very popular student was Joe Spinelli, President of the Senior Class. Among the many activities of this versatile senior were "A" choir, Spanish Club President, Star and Atom, Varsity "S" and Star and Chevron. Joe's senior year was culminated by his election to National Honor Society.

Vivacious Sue Vickers was one of the most active and outstanding girls in our class. She was Secretary of the Senior Class, a member of Boosters, Block "S," German Club, Future Nurses, and a member of student council for three years, and executive board for two years. As a senior she was initiated into National Honor Society.

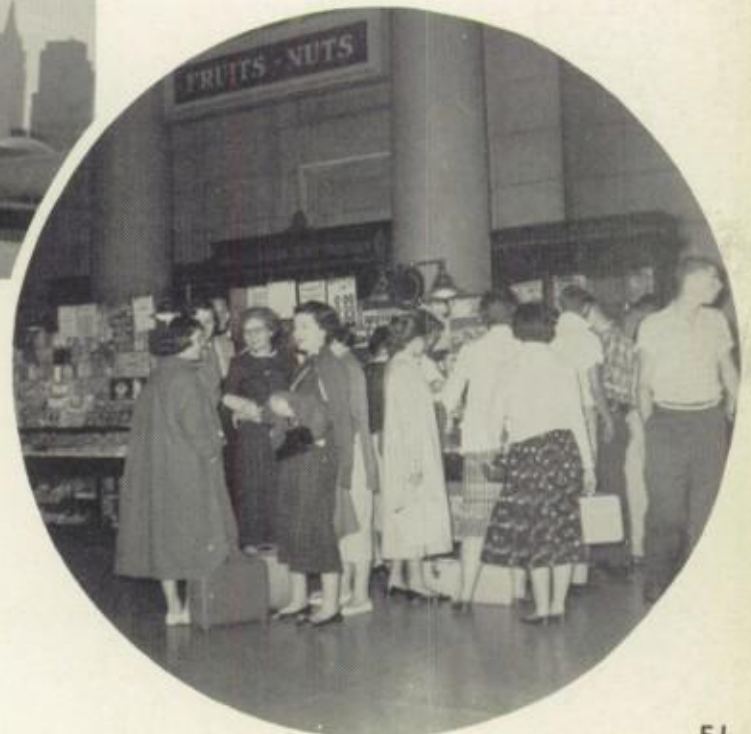

Fred Shively was one of the busiest seniors at Springfield High. The Vice President of the Senior class has been president of French Club, Future Teacher's Club, and Dramatics Club. His musical talents appeared in "A" choir, boys' ensemble, and French Boys' Ensemble. Also showing his versatility are his many hours spent in intramurals and basketball. Climaxing his years at S.H.S., he was a member of Star and Chevron and National Honor Society.

SENIOR TRIP

The treasure chest overflows with memories of the Senior class trip to New York and Washington, D.C., as we recall the many memorable sights, the train rides, the impromptu picnic, the waiting, and the companionship and good fun.

CLASS NIGHT

GRADUATION

On June 6, 1957, at 8 p.m., our twelve years of work culminated in graduation. We seniors, dressed in the traditional blue and white caps and gowns, advanced to the stage of Memorial Hall to receive our diplomas from Mr. Don Applegate, President of the Board of Education, as Mr. E. E. Holt, our former Superintendent of schools and now State Superintendent of Public Instruction, read our names.

Having been presented by Acting Superintendent of Schools, Dan F. Ackerman, we heard addresses by Mr. C. L. Fox, our principal; Iris Maybruck; the student speaker, and the President of West Liberty State College, Dr. Paul N. Elbin. Thus we added the last precious item to our treasure of memories.

aculty

One of the outstanding events in our "Treasure of Memories" was Convocation. After the invocation by Rev. Dr. Kenneth Murphy, an inspiring message, "Our Heritage," was delivered by John A. McIntire. Our convocation was culminated with the singing of the "Alma Mater."

ENGLISH

After completing sophomore and junior English, a student may select the form of senior English which best fits his interests—Commercial English, College English, or General English. The student may also take courses in journalism or yearbook.

Right: Miss Rabey is dictating to her Commercial English students at the board.

Below: These College English students are eagerly awaiting the return of their test papers.

Center, right: The Herald staff inspects past issues of the bi-monthly publication.

LANGUAGE

To form a basis for English or foreign languages, students at Springfield High include Latin in their schedule. Those who continue their language study choose from German, French, or Spanish. At the end of the senior year, most students find conversation in the language easy and a good background for future study.

Below, right: With the aid of a wooden Eiffel Tower, Sally Wallace points out its characteristics to Mrs. Ladd's French class.

MATH

At Springfield High various courses in mathematics are offered. These are designed to fill most requirements for business or college and to provide several different areas of study.

The key to the events of today is found in the annals of yesterday—this is the theme of the social science department. Not only does social science have an active part in the student's schedule, but also it sponsors many extracurricular activities.

Above and right: Mr. Frankhart and Mr. Stewart acquaint their geography students with the physical features of the world.

CIENCE

Right: Using maps as visual aids, Mr. Vance's world history students correlate geography with world history.

Left: The study of current events in American history is augmented by voting in mock elections.

Below: To acquaint students with the theories of present-day government, Mr. Milligan utilizes audio-visual devices.

Above: One of the students in Miss Leatherman's physiology class uses a model to demonstrate functions of the ear.

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCE

Below: Mr. Walters explains the parts and characteristics of the common leaf to his biology class.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE

Right: Mr. Hanes is checking workbooks in his chemistry laboratory.

HOME ECONOMICS

The purpose of this department is to prepare the future homemaker by offering courses in Home Management, Textiles, Foods, and Clothing. The students of Home Management discuss such subjects as floral decorations. One of the projects enjoyed by the Textile students is knitting. The Foods class prepares various dishes during laboratory periods. The basic fundamentals of sewing are offered to Clothing students.

COMMERCIAL

To aid students in gaining those skills which they will need in a business career, Springfield High offers several commercial courses. These courses are designed to prepare one to perform efficiently an office type job. By taking the courses offered, one can become an expert at almost all office practices.

Left: Mr. Waln's salesmanship students watch as their classmates demonstrate the procedures of a good sale.

COMMERCIAL

Right: Mr. Lewis checks solutions to actual cases in business law.

Right: The students of Mr. Walsh's clerical practice class utilize many time-saving devices.

DRIVERS' EDUCATION

The purpose of Drivers' Education is to give a foundation in safe driving and in practical procedures.

Mr. Reardon's Driver Education class watches an informative movie.

Once a week, Mr. Stewart's driving students put the classroom instruction into practice.

PRINT SHOP

The Print Shop is an important unit at Springfield High. Under the competent instruction of Mr. Kepple, the boys not only learn modern printing methods, but also render services to the school by providing many forms used by both students and faculty.

CLINIC

Students who become ill are sent to our modernly-equipped clinic. There the school nurse, Mrs. Elder, competently administers aid.

HOME NURSING

Home Nursing is offered to those who want it for their future vocation or for practical uses. Mrs. Goodman's class learns how to care for various injuries.

SPEECH

By taking speech at Springfield High School, a student increases his confidence in public speaking. Dramatic Arts is also offered to students who wish to learn more about drama and the stage.

Above: Miss Lannert, who directs all school plays, relaxes in the Christmas setting.

Right: Under the direction of Miss Lannert, a speech class learns useful principles for speaking.

Left: The Dramatic Arts class discusses ideas for the setting of a new play.

Sculptoring, which attracts the more creative students, may be used later as a vocation or an avocation.

The Boosters' Cabinet is shown above discussing plans for the next dance. Seated, left to right, are: Judy Kalbfus, Carol Hiller, Mike Wright, Dick Lemmon, Ruth Ann Gran. Standing are: Roddy Myers, Ann McCleary, John Crabill, Dave Howe, Jack Hutslar, Sally Goodfellow.

The officers of Boosters' Club are: Sue Elliot, Sergeant-at-Arms; Phyllis Compton, Secretary. Standing are: Bill Reed, Treasurer; Larry Weiser, Vice President; Pete Swackhamer, President.

Every year the Boosters' Club promotes interest and drive among the students by arranging pep meetings and by decorating for the various dances which were given throughout the year. Perhaps one of their most outstanding projects this year was conducting a campaign for the Hungarian relief.

An enthusiastic crowd prepares to send its team to victory during tournament time.

Several students pack clothing to be sent for aid to Hungarian refugees.

BOOSTER'S ACTIVITIES

Pictured below is the Pep Band which greatly aids in promoting spirit and enthusiasm at pep rallies.

As Chuck Mason and Larry Weiser look on, Jack Moore and Tom Cox prepare Miss Lannert for the Pep Machine.

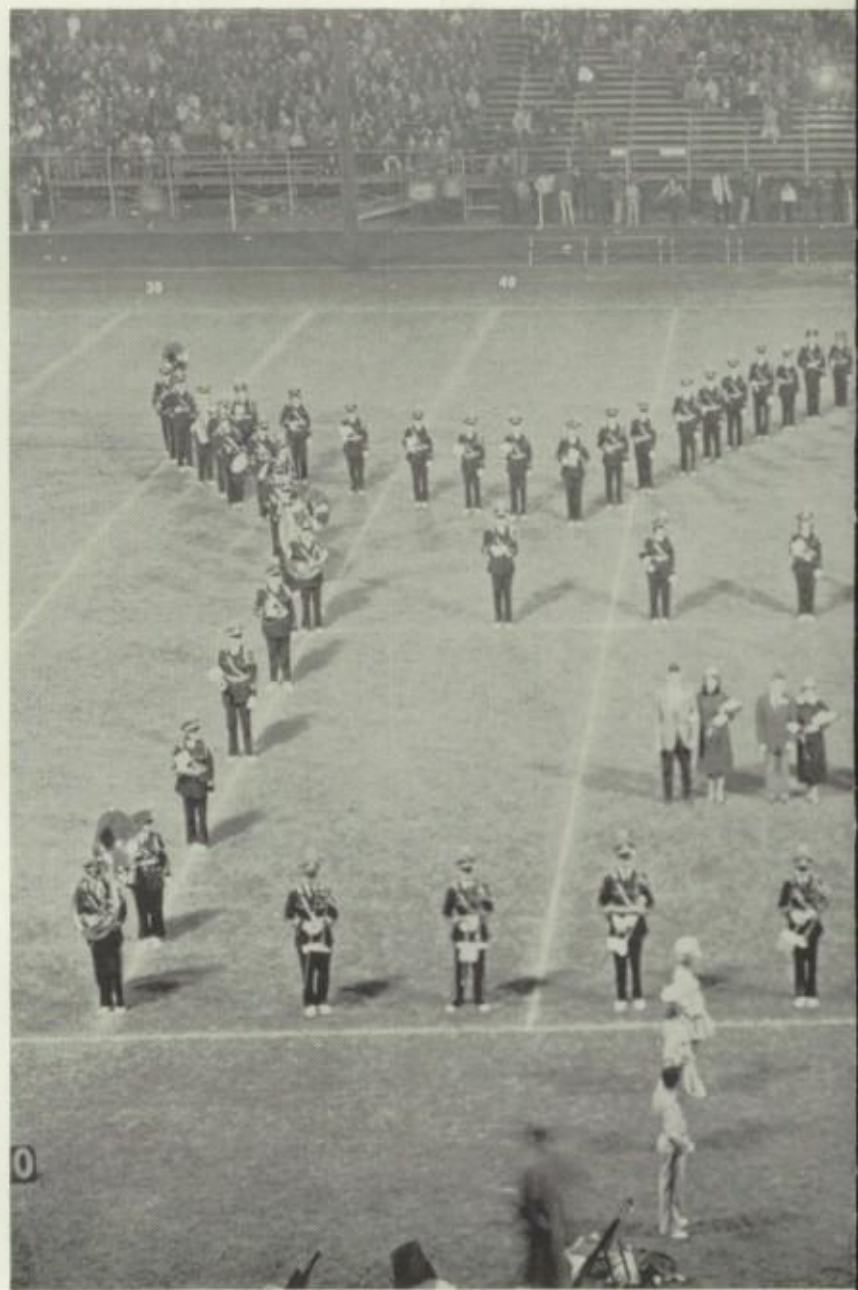

JUDY GEORGE

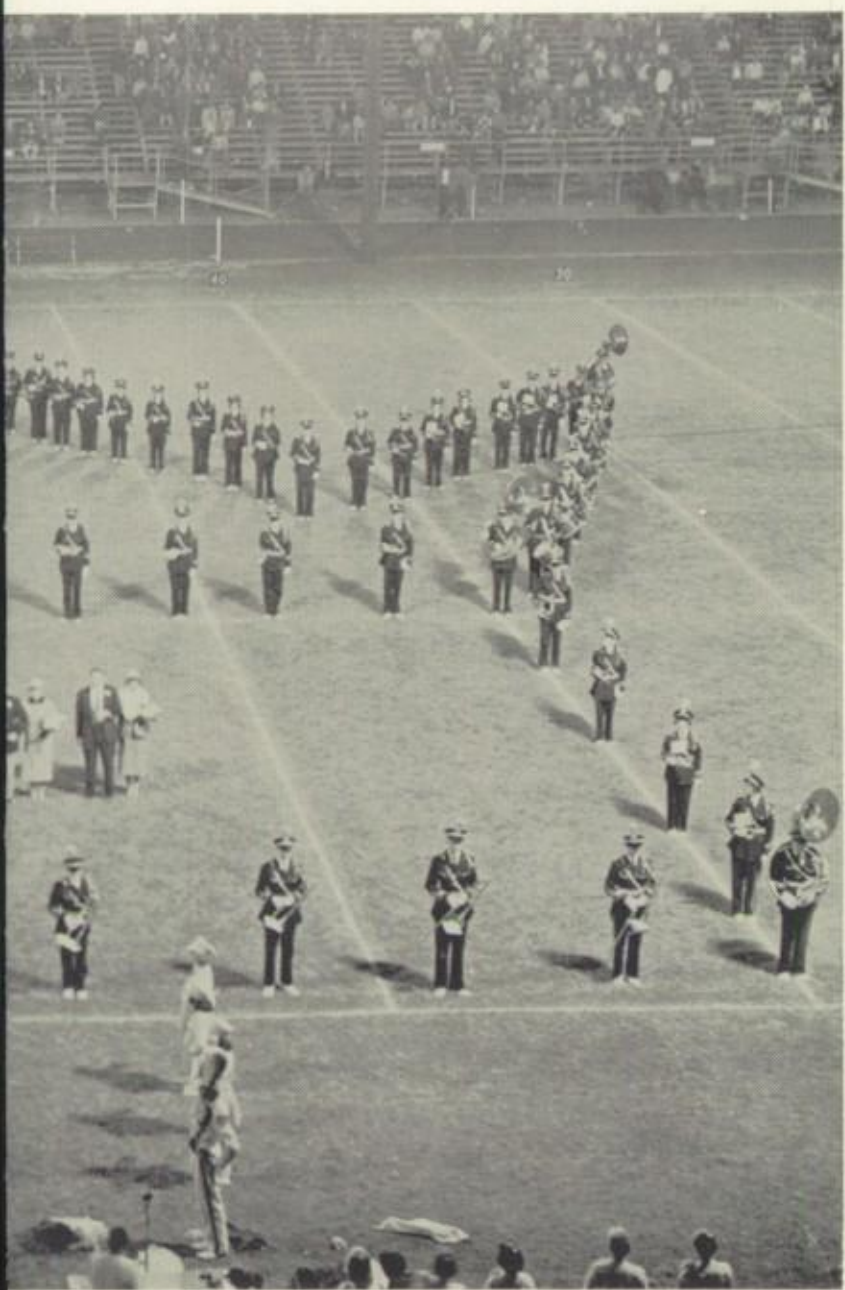

PHYLLIS COMPTON

The Homecoming Court of 1956 was comprised of the following girls: Phyllis Compton, Corinne Crabill, Judy George, Barbara Martin, and Sandy Sions. These girls were elected by a secret vote of the Junior and Senior classes. They reigned at the homecoming game on Friday, October 12, and the Royale Command Ball which was held on the following night. Above is a picture of the formation which the band members made in honor of Their Majesties.

Each year the Optimist Club presents awards to those who excel in various fields. The Sophomores receive certificates, the Juniors, medals, and the Seniors receive certificates, medals, and a twenty-five dollar bond. From top to bottom they are: Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores.

Miss Lannert and the members of the cast

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

In this humorous scene Sally Greider catches Iris Maybruck as Jim Reuf and Jack Moore look on.

Ed Schecter and Susan Goodfellow provided the romantic interest in the play.

The Silver Whistle, a three-act comedy which told how life and happiness were restored in a sullen home for the aged by a debonair tramp, was presented by the Senior Class on November 2 and 3, 1956.

Above: Tim Waters is apprehended as the villain in this climatic scene of the play which shows the entire cast.

Jennie Carter as Aunt Sophie is surprised to discover Miriam Hiller's interest in Pat Harkins.

On March 21 and 22, the Junior Class presented Tiger House, an entertaining mystery-comedy which was well received by a large audience. It was the story of a mansion and the suspenseful situations in which its mysterious past involved the young new owner.

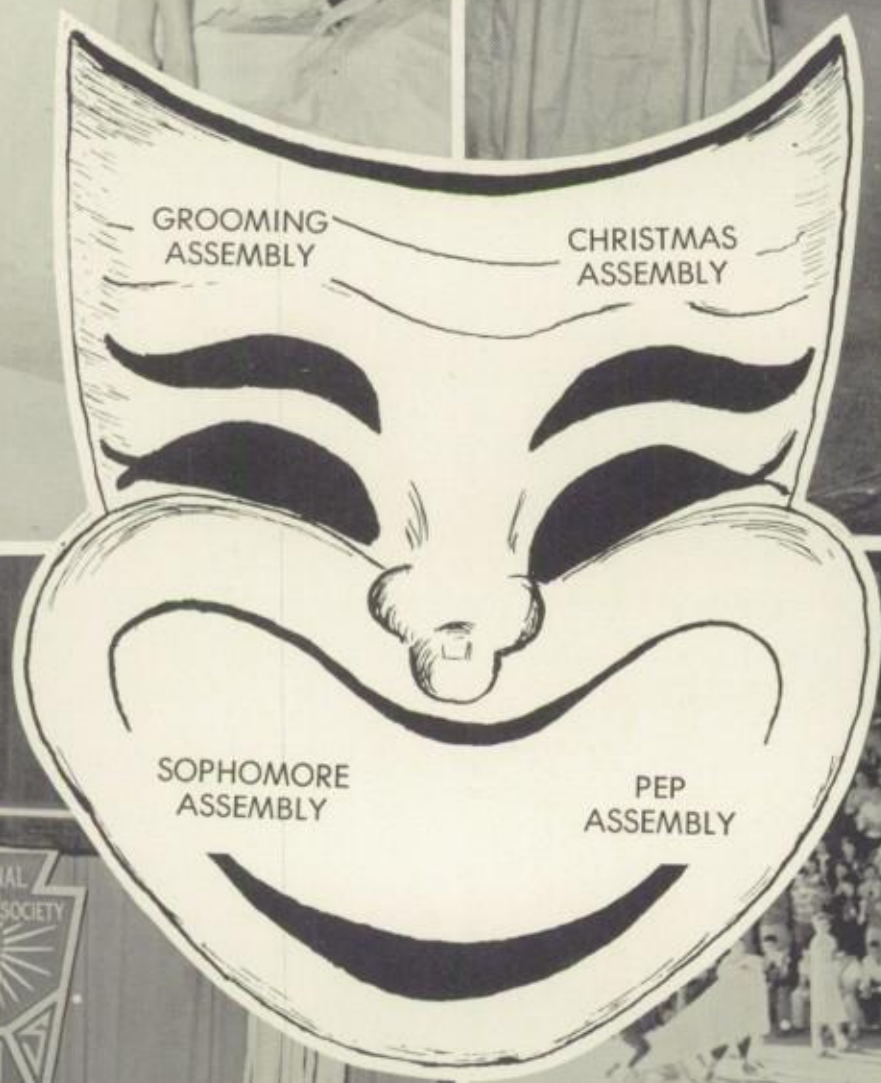

SPRING DRAMA

A slumber party, which was held in the winter, was one of the exciting activities of Sophomore Friendship.

The members of Senior Friendship look forward to their bi-monthly meetings.

The members of Junior-Senior Hi-Y are pictured around the desk planning for their next meeting.

The National Honor Society, which corresponds to the college honorary society, Phi Beta Kappa, granted Springfield a charter in 1938.

The lighted torch and keystone, symbols of enlightenment and knowledge, are the basic design of the pin which any student, upon whom this high honor has been bestowed, deems a great privilege to wear.

Parents of the initiates are invited to the beautiful and dignified ceremony.

Candidates, who must be in the upper third of their class and active in at least two extracurricular activities during their junior and senior years, are considered for membership in the light of character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

To create enthusiasm for scholarship; to stimulate a desire to render service; to advance worthy leadership; to encourage development of character of high school youth—these are the purposes of the National Honor Society.

The people in the ritual who exemplified the high ideals of this society were: Philip Day, Scripture Reading; James Smith, Regent of Honor; Richard McDaniel, Torch Bearer; Deborah Hubbard, Scholarship; Sylvia Beasley, Character; Fred Shively, Service; Sally Wallace, Leadership; Marjorie Mumma, Herald.

YEARBOOK SKIT

Haymow Heights was the setting for the 1957 yearbook skit. William Shakespeare paid them a visit in which he demonstrated the finer points of selling yearbooks. Members of the staff played the parts of teachers and students and showed the various activities open to high school students.

Below: Mr. McGowan and yearbook staff.

Below: While the dean of girls looks on approvingly, several students show their original creations to Shakespeare.

DANCES

"Royal Command Ball in Honor of Their Majesties" was the theme of the annual homecoming dance held in October.

A vast wonderland of fantasy was the setting of the Junior-Senior Prom.

During intermission several couples enjoyed the decorations of sea life which carried out the theme of "Neptune's Realm."

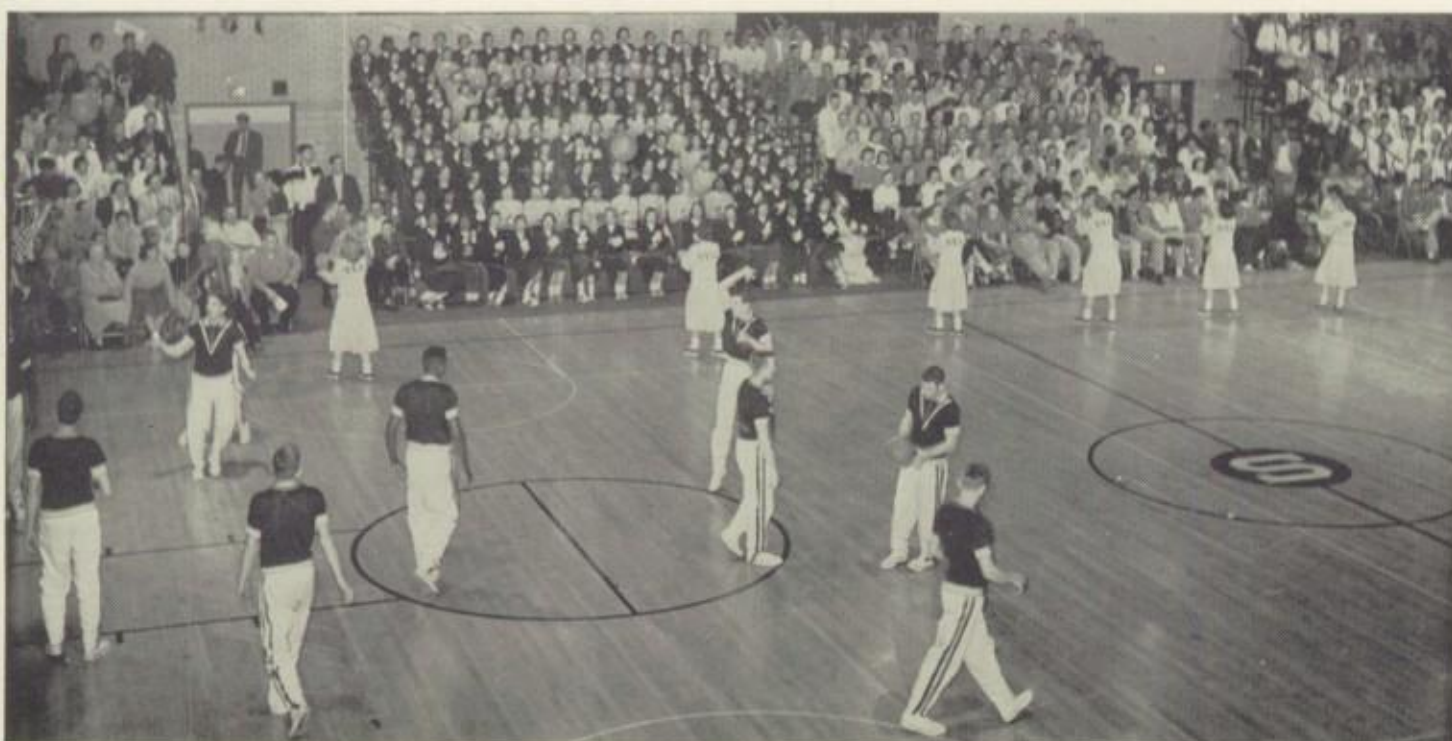

STAR AND CHEVRON

This group is receiving their Star and Chevron pin for having given two hundred twenty-five hours service to the school.

Shirley Olsen is earning Star and Chevron credit by operating the intercom.

Credit is also given to members of Block S, Cheerleaders, and members of athletic teams.

The object of Star and Chevron is to recognize those students who have given extra time and talent for the betterment of Springfield High School. The students receive one chevron for seventy-five hours of service; two chevrons for one hundred fifty hours; and the pin for two hundred twenty-five hours.

CHEERLEADERS

Our enthusiastic cheerleaders play an important part in the success of SHS athletic teams. With the help of the Block S, this faithful group gives both time and energy to help the school win. Without them the Wildcat spirit would certainly be lost.

The three cheerleaders who were picked for the following two years are, left to right: Mary Edwards, Judy Adams, Janet Mills.

Here a group of students are taking a stroll around S.H.S. to make comparisons.

New friends were made and gossip exchanged during the lunch served in our cafeteria.

thletics

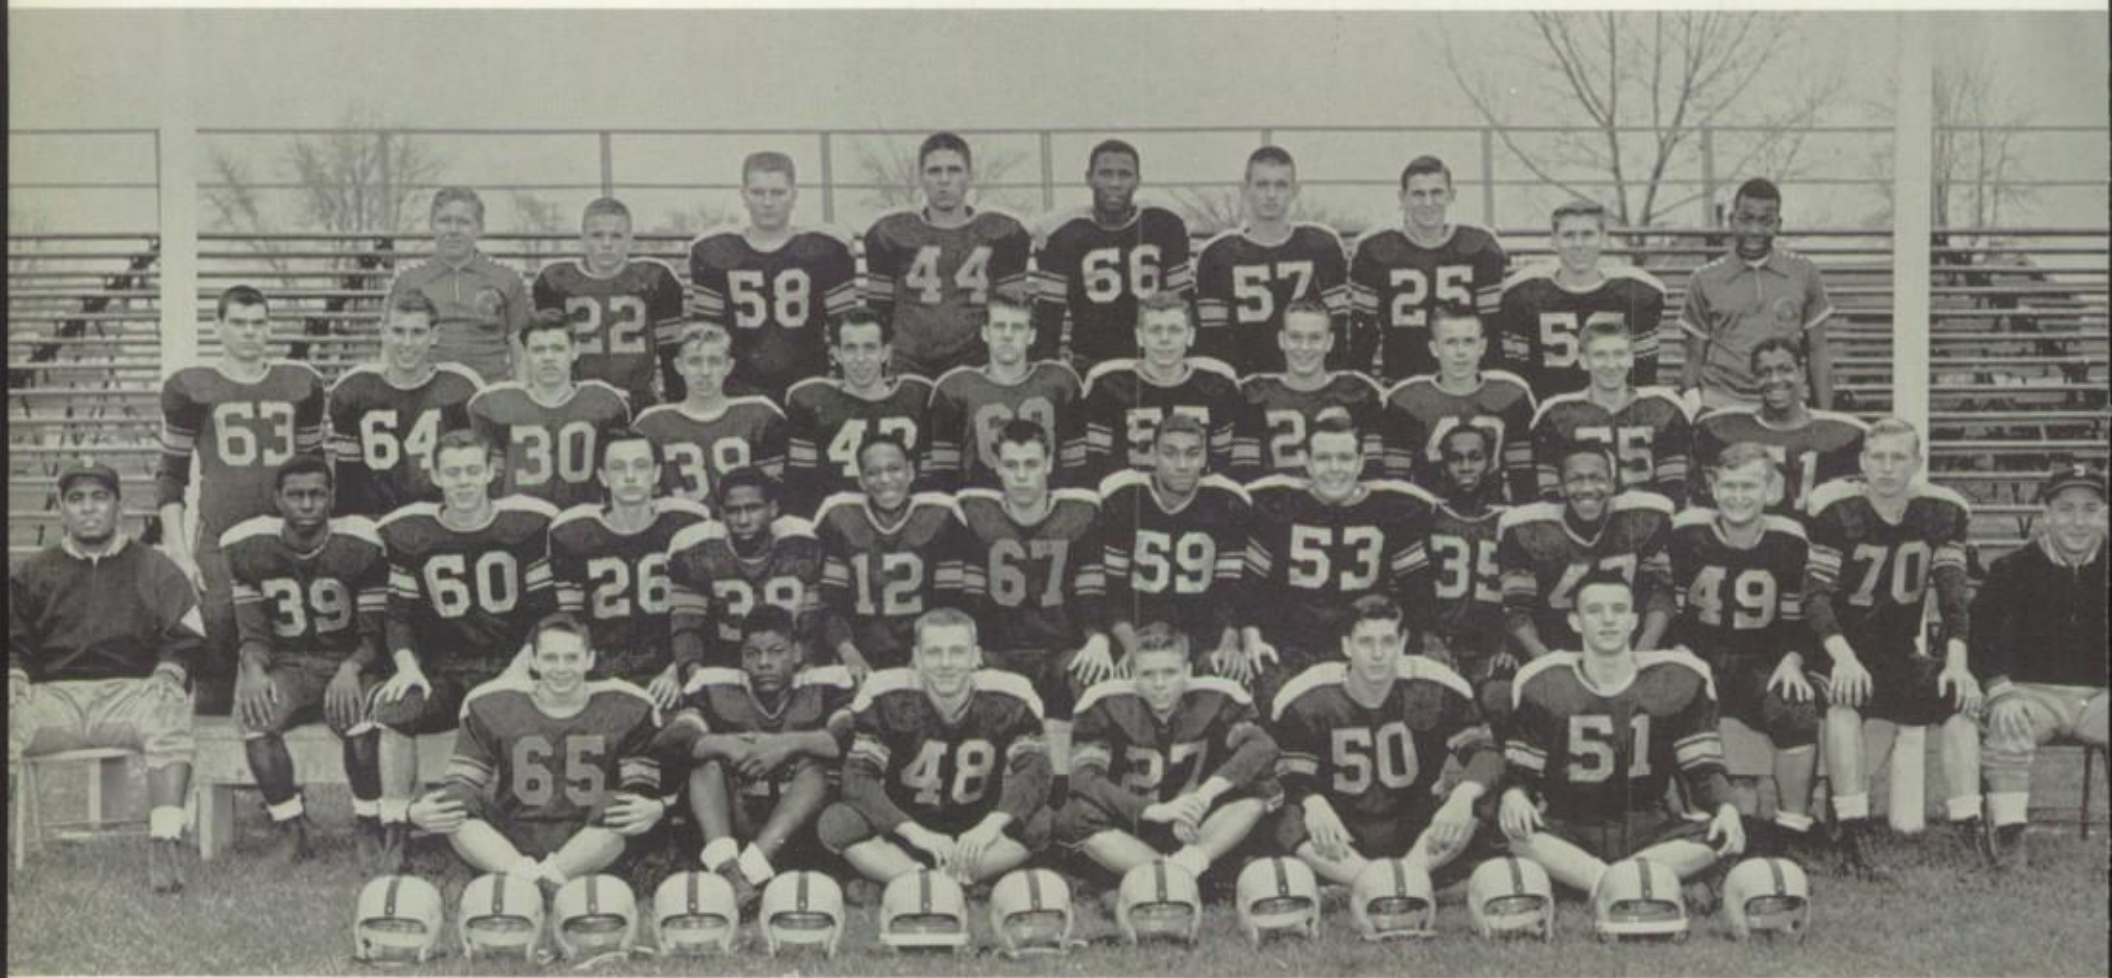

A rich portion in our treasure of memories here at Springfield High is athletics. Participating in and viewing events helps to teach us sportsmanship and how to be better citizens of our school and country. We are proud of our athletic program and are sure it will continue to be a great source of wealth in our treasure.

Most Important! A College Education

"Going away to College" is always wonderful, but, please remember that the most important thing is a College Education.

Distance, of course, adds to the glamour, and it may lead to extra costs for food, room, and transportation.

Why be troubled while trying to compute costs at a distant college when you know the fixed costs at Wittenberg?

Seniors of Springfield High School should apply AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE for admission to Wittenberg because, as you read this, many high school students have already applied. Their worries are over.

For complete information visit the college campus, or call the Office of Admissions, FA 3-7581.
